JAP CORDON TIGHTENING ABOUT KUROPATKIN'S MEN

RUSSIANS IN SERIOUS DILEMMA TRY TO ESCAPE TRAP BY FLIGHT.

LONDON, July 16.—Reports from the Far East indicate that a general engagement is in progress.

Lieutenant-General Sahkaroff, who is with General Kuropatkin, reports that the Japanese, during Thursday and Friday, occupied many positions, and placed cannon on the heights near the railway north of Kai-Ping. Their advance was attended with heavy fighting.

The position of Kuropatkin, according to reports from Chinese sources of information, is desperate. He is said to have inadequate forces to cope with the Japanese, and his retreats were made with the hope that reinforcements would reach him. This Fabian policy has been fruitless and the fact that he has made a stand near Tachi Chao is taken to indicate that he is in a trap.

There is a sensational report current that Kuropatkin's troops are largely due to the interference of his old-time enemy, Viceroy Alexieff. The Viceroy is said to have stopped reinforcements en route to Kuropatkin on the ground of desiring to look them over to see if they were in efficient fighting trim. This attitude of Alexieff is thought by many to be likely to prove a serious menace to Kuropatkin in Manchuria. The Times correspondent at Berlin sends a dispatch this morning which, he says, contains news received at Peking, and which contains serious charges against Alexieff. He says:

"The Viceroy appears to assert his right to detain a considerable body of troops."

FIND LOOMIS'S BODY NEAR PLYMOUTH, ENG.

BELIEVED THAT HE COMMITTED SUICIDE IN A FIT OF MENTAL ABERRATION.

PLYMOUTH, July 16.—The body of Frederick Kent Loomis, the young American who disappeared from the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. shortly before her arrival at Plymouth, on June 20, was today washed ashore at Thurston, near Kings Bridge, three miles below here.

This is the first step toward the solution of a mystery which has troubled the police of England and France ever since the young American was first reported missing.

Loomis, who was the brother of the American Assistant Secretary of State, was on his way to Abyssinia, carrying a number of papers, drawn up in the form of a treaty, to the King of Abyssinia. These papers referred to some land and other immunities which King Menelik had made to William H. Ellis, a Texas negro, who occupied Loomis on the trip. When the body was washed ashore today it was identified by these and other papers which were found in the clothing.

REPORTS VARY GREATLY.

As to the disappearance of Loomis reports vary, some report that it was seen when he was on board while the boat was going from Plymouth to Cherbourg.

When the first report of the strange disappearance was made locally, therefore, no one was advised. First there was a belief that he had been murdered and his body thrown overboard. Working on this line the police of Plymouth and of the French authorities made inquiry regarding certain persons who were known to

BUILDING TRADES WAR MAY TIE UP ALL WORK

LABOR UNIONS READY TO MEET MASTERS IN CONTEST OVER OPEN SHOP.

The Structural Building Trades' Alliance having learned that at a secret meeting of the master builders it had been decided to make a fight for what is known as an "open shop" in the Boston building trades, it was today at the meeting of the alliance to demand an immediate settlement of the trouble between B. M. Whitcomb, the builder of the new Christian Science Church, in Plymouth street, and the Building and Employers' Union.

It is believed by the building trades that the first fight is to be made on the new church and it may follow that every building now in course of construction may be tied up.

The building trades are the strongest organization of union labor in the country and are organized in every city of importance. For months every building in New York city was tied up as a result of a fight made by the contractors against the iron workers and much money was lost.

It was decided at last night's meeting to call out all the different trades except the

Other Unions Vote to Join in Sympathetic Effort to Bring Packers to Terms—Complete Tie-Up of the Business Likely to Result, Cutting Off All Meat Supply.

The negotiations between strikers and packers for a settlement of the meat strike in Chicago are at a deadlock, according to leased wire dispatches to the BOSTON AMERICAN.

The unions have refused arbitration on the terms proposed by the packers. The latter have declared themselves irrevocably pledged to the position they have taken. The next proposition must come from the unions.

THE ENGINEERS, FIREMEN AND OTHER MECHANICS EMPLOYED IN THE YARDS AND PACKING HOUSES HAVE VOTED UNANIMOUSLY FOR A SYMPATHETIC STRIKE. THIS WILL TAKE PLACE TO-NIGHT OR TO-MORROW AND WILL EFFECTUALLY TIE UP EVERY ONE OF THE PLANTS. MORE EFFECTUALLY THAN THE STRIKE OF THE BUTCHERS AND PACKERS. IT WILL PUT AN END TO SHIPMENTS OF DRESSED BEEF.

To Avoid Violence. The strike leaders have issued notices that they will not countenance violence. Notwithstanding this, there are ominous indications of brewing trouble in Chicago, St. Paul and other packing centres, as well as in New York.

An unusually large number of live cattle arrived in Boston to-day from the West. It is evidently a disposition among Western packers to ship livestock to the

BOSTON IS HOTTEST SPOT IN NEW ENGLAND

Boston is the hottest place in New England, as yesterday. At 10 it had touched 72, and was creeping up at the rate of 1 degree every hour.

The government thermometer on top of the Postoffice Building registered a temperature of 78 degrees at 10 o'clock. The heat was rising then, and the chart told rates that it will continue to rise all day to-day and to-morrow.

A fourteen-mile breeze from the southwest was stirring, but it was laden with humidity. Observer Smith's thermometer began to rise at 5 o'clock this morning, when it started down 84, the lowest point touched in the twenty-four hours beginning at 5

Heat for slaughter, rather than have it remain in the stock yards. About fifty carcasses of cattle on the hoof reach Boston every Saturday. To-day eighty-three carcasses were received by noon, and it was said that fifty-four more carcasses are due to-night. These are eighteen cattle in all, are shipped to the New England Dressed Beef and Wood Company.

Foreman James W. Bradley of the stock yard said:

"It looks to me as if the Western packers are sending their cattle here on the hoof to be killed in local slaughter houses to prevent any sort famine in this section."

Today's maximum temperature was 84, and today's minimum was 64. The prospect of a still higher temperature is not very bright.

Yesterday's humidity was 75, five per cent above the normal. The prospect is that it will increase, and with it the demand for cooling drinks and small changes in the rate of the thermometer.

There is no storm in sight, and the sun's rays probably continue to descend through cloudless skies.

Much has been said and written about the "red-head bog," but one cannot get too much against this habit of writing to the end of the next and making every one else have to read and think by them.

At the same time, I believe that this habit is more common among our own than among the men. I know of several who have written me letters and have been told that they are not to be read, and yet they are not to be read.

THE NOTED AUTHORESS SAYS DO NOT BLAME GOD FOR CALAMITIES AND DISASTERS, BUT MAKE YOURSELF READY AND KEEP READY.

COPYRIGHT, 1904, BY AMERICAN-JOURNAL

WHENEVER a great disaster occurs, causing the loss of human life, the Atheist and Unbeliever comes to the front with his question: "Why did your God allow this horrible thing to happen?"

The Trojans believed and the Stoics have brought forth these queries. Both disasters were the result of human negligence and greed. Added to these was human carelessness.

People rarely take the trouble to investigate such conditions as existed in the Trojans or on the Stoics until some personal loss compels their attention.

By religion teachers we that we are placed on earth to develop and use all our powers of perception and observation, and to perfect our minds which bring into play all our best qualities and attributes.

Usefulness, will power, self-control, thoughtfulness for others and an example that awakens the best impulses in others are all methods of this development.

If we fall in the use of any of these qualities we suffer and cause suffering, and delay the ultimate purpose of all life. It is not the intention of the Creator to save us from the results of our own misdeeds.

No matter if we see through ignorance, we are expected to suffer and to gain knowledge through this suffering.

This life seems no more in the eyes of the Great Creative Powers than a second time seems to you or me.

We are not a cruel or wicked planet because you allow your child to suffer a second pain by the extraction of a tooth. It is the baby's tooth, and another will come in its place.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Loss of life here on earth seems no more to Him than the loss of the baby tooth seems to you.

This life is but a second in the eternity of time, and will be as William Ellery Channing said:

"There are both seeds and prophets, and Channing knew whereof he spoke."

Death and separation from those we love are inevitable.

The purpose of life on earth is larger than the mere content found in unbroken domestic relations.

We delay our own development, and when we suffer the death of innocent child, from through selfish greed and wicked indifference, we only speed those other souls.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I have a lady friend who is troubled to be somewhat nervous and is looking for a young man who formerly paid her attention, now partly ignores her.

He has wanted me several times to go with him to the city, and I am afraid to go with him, but I am sure that I would not like to have him see me.

to higher phases of life, while we lessen our own chances of happiness here, and in other realms.

Without doubt many persons who are in the Trojans' Trenches and on the Stoics' benches, and selfish methods in other realms, which, had they heeded, might have given them a longer lease of life here and less trouble.

Many such incidents are coming to my ears regarding both tragedies. In those wonderful realms which are beyond, the invisible friends sometimes know that disaster is near us, and endeavor to give us signals; but, like ships at sea, we are not prepared for our physical thoughts and ideas, and we do not see or hear the warnings.

Those who pass on, however, need all that faith and knowledge of future life can give.

It is sorry work to try and undermine their confidence in their Creator. Only the selfish egoist would attempt it.

There are two lessons to be learned in the disaster. One is the necessity of individual responsibility; the other, the necessity of thinking about the life to come, and cultivating a faith in other realms.

Whatever your occupation, look to it that you do your work well. Each one of us has a duty to perform, and each of us has a duty to perform.
